

ZAG Chosen as Early Microsoft Security Assessment Tool Adapter

San Jose, CA – September 8, 2005 – ZAG is pleased to announce that it has been asked to be an early adopter of the Microsoft Security Assessment Tool. This tool offers an excellent opportunity to review a corporation's security at a high level. The tool does more than the classic IT security review. It looks at the security of an organization's Infrastructure, Application, Operations and people.

ZAG is able to utilize the tool to give a clearer understanding on where an organization stands with respect to its security. Customers have found ZAG's excellent core understanding of the security field to be key to delivering valid results.
