ZAG Achieves Microsoft Partner Program Silver Data Platform Competency

San Jose, CA – July 18, 2012 – ZAG Technical Services, Inc. (ZAG), a leading Microsoft Gold Certified Partner in Northern California, recently announced that it has achieved the Microsoft Partner Program Silver Data Platform Competency.

"ZAG decided to acquire the Data Platform Competency because it shows our ability to develop and deploy database solutions," stated Jim Hunton, Principal of ZAG, "With the volume and complexity of data that companies require now, this competency allows us to show that we can efficiently and effectively manage and protect critical systems and information."

To earn a Microsoft Silver Competency, ZAG had to complete several initiatives including a set of tests to prove their level of expertise with Microsoft products and services, submit customer references detailing relevant projects and work that has been completed, and employ a required number of Microsoft Certified Professionals who are skilled in current technology relevant for the competency or designation.
